HOUSE STRIKES
PRESS MUZZLE
FROM SPY BILL

Votes 184 to 144 Against
Wilson Plan—Navy
Conditions Factor.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., May 31.—(Special)—President Wilson today was defeated in his effort to obtain legislation imposing a war censorship of the press.

By a vote of 184 to 144 the house of representatives returned the espionage bill to the conference committee of the two houses with instructions to eliminate the press censorship section. It will be struck out, the senate already having rejected the provision.

Although opponents of the censorship section contend that other provisions of the spy bill drastically curtail the publication of information aiding the enemy, President Wilson believes that congress yet will rule in his favor in denying his request for authority to regulate the publication of war intelligence. He may renew his effort to obtain this legislation in another form.

CHARGE SECRET ON NAVY.
The house in rejecting the censorship revision was influenced to some extent by the charges that the administration was withholding information of the serious condition of health in the navy. There was a secret fever, and spinal meningitis was said to be enlisting. It was also charged that the general staff of the navy administration would make no statement to publicize newspapers critical of exposing such conditions.

Later it was disclosed that the house had refused to appropriate $3,000,000 asked by the administration to provide adequate hospital facilities in the navy and that the senate had suppressed the recent testimony of Admiral Braxted, surgeon general of the navy, who described the epidemics in the navy and primitive conditions under which the sick men were crowded in tents and shacks.

The refusal of the house to grant the appropriation and the action of the Senate appropriations committee in suppressing Admiral Braxted's testimony were dictated by the administration leaders in Congress.

ADMIRAL BRAXTED'S REPORT.
Admiral Braxted in his statement, which was suppressed by the senate committee, said:

"I consider the condition today in regard to all the personnel of the navy and, in regard to the care of the sick of the navy, as more critical and more dangerous than I have ever known."

"Why is this so? For this reason: We have facilities for about 70,000 men and women. There has come a sudden increase in which thousands are coming into the navy."

"For the care of the sick about 2,000 men have today between 3,000 and 4,000 patients. Soon I shall have 4,000 men and 9,000 with this in the navy."

MAN BRING DISEASE.

"Thousands that are coming in from Europe, men from all over the world, bringing in with them infectious contagious diseases that have never been seen before. At the training stations, which can accommodate safely about 8,000 men, thousands are coming in. To take these men in safely, to take every group as it comes, treat it and sustain it until we are able to go into the service, it is safe to go into the service."

"Increase has been such that we have been able to do this. The result is that we have every available medical station that can accommodate swarming with them. Most men have had to go to the fleet and remain there, a statement of perhaps only three days."

"What is the result? Already the work has been done, and today the adumps and the dread disease of cerebro-spinal meningitis are on many ships of the fleet."

CRITICAL TIME FOR NAVY.
The condition is so critical and the number of men there is such that a part of this is not checked it would result in the evacuation of the fleet and certainly in the destruction of its efficiency."

"Now we are going into great competition. They must be as responsible or less responsible as possible. They are telling you that our provisions are good, column 20."

ARM IN ARM

Republicans and Democrats Are Called On to Work in Harmony on Registration of Men Liable for War Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—In a joint statement issued today from their respective party headquarters here, Chairman Wilcox of the Republican national committee and Chairman McCormick of the Democratic national committee called upon party, communists and workers in all communities throughout the country to put their machinery into operation to aid army draft registration officers.

"By the terms of the selective draft act," the joint statement says, "the president has designated June 5 as registration day for the purpose of enrolling those citizens who are of military age and condition."

"A list of eligible men within certain ages available for service is to be established by this registration, from which it is subsequently proposed to select those who are to bear arms for the United States in the present struggle, and those whose proper sphere of duty is along other but no less useful lines. It is of great national importance that this registration should be as complete as possible in order that the government may be enabled to make proper selection."

"The congressional enactment under which this registration is conducted will from now until next Tuesday detain any person within the age limit suspected of trying to escape.

MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., May 31.—[Special.] No American citizen of eligible military age, excepting those who have been granted a deferment, will be permitted to leave this country either with or without passports, until after the completion of registration, June 5. This is the substance of an order for immediate effect received here from Washington. Immigration officers will stop and question each man desiring to cross to Windsor and if he comes within the requirements of the military authorities, he will be obliged to remain on the Michigan side of the line.

"Our members in this matter will accept as valid any statement we make to be sure of our ground before we take action," said one government official. He admitted in making this statement he was taking into consideration the severe penalty attached to a violation of the draft law, which provides for twenty years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. It was reported during the day that five additional arrests had been made.

It is admitted that the majority of these persons are thought to be in some way or other connected with the movement to prevent registration on June 5.

Grand Jury Called.

The calling of the new federal grand jury for June 6, the day after registration day, by Judge Evan A. Evans seems to bear out the theory that the federal officials are in no way disposed to hurry matters. The present federal grand jury now in session ends its labors on Saturday and has not as yet been asked to call up any phase of the alleged anti-draft plot.

It was announced by Mr. Clabaugh, that Miss Sarah Waitzel of 1505 South Kedzie avenue had been released. Her detention was the result of a mistaken identity.

BARS INJUNCTION AGAINST DRAFT IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., May 31.—The calling of the new federal grand jury for June 6, the day after registration day, by Judge Evan A. Evans seems to bear out the theory that the federal officials are in no way disposed to hurry matters. The present federal grand jury now in session ends its labors on Saturday and has not as yet been asked to call up any phase of the alleged anti-draft plot.

It was stated that an official statement from the Judge advocate general of the army would be sought and made public for the information of all concerned.

There was some question at the war department concerning the legal as well as moral obligation of American citizens of military age, either permanently or temporarily resident abroad, to register.

It was stated that an official statement from the Judge advocate general of the army would be sought and made public for the information of all concerned.

From the bench he recommended that Thomas Sullivan and Raymond L. Moore, the petitioners, both of whom are eligible for registration, seek out the first enlistment place without attempting to evade the registration law.

DECLARING WAR, DISHONOR TO U. S. —JOHN D. WORKS

Former Senator Decries
Step—New Yorkers Ask
U. S. Peace Terms.

New York, May 31.—Resolutions have been adopted that an "opportunity has been created for bringing the war to an end in the manner most favorable to the people of all lands," and calling on the government of the United States to issue "a definite and concrete statement of its war aims and its terms of peace," were adopted at the session tonight of the so-called First American Conference on Democracy and Terms of Peace in Madison Square garden.

The resolution was presented by Miss Fola M. Hollister, daughter of the Wisconsin senator who voted against the declaration of war.

A conference, before adjournment, decided to form a new representative body, fashioned after workmen's and soldiers' delegates in Russia.

The Madison Square garden session followed an afternoon of thrills at the initial meeting of the "delegates."

"Dishonor to United States."

The features of the afternoon meeting included the reading of a dispatch from former Senator Works of California in which he declared that "anybody close to us or engaged in it in any way, by any and every legitimate way consistent with the honor of our country, we dishonored ourselves by declaring war without adequate or reasonable cause. We should do the country honor of correcting that fatal mistake as soon as possible."

"I am conscientiously opposed to the war," former Senator Works will say. "The people of this country do not want war. If the issue had been left to them we would be at peace now."

"Allies will negotiate should be kept entirely free to negotiate peace at any time without regard to the interests or desires of any other nation," they disband.

Thousands Turned Away.

Thousands of persons were turned away from the night meeting after the department had directed that no more be allowed inside the garden. Several hundred extra policemen were on duty and fire engines, with fire hoses attached, were in readiness for any disorder. The meeting, however, was free of any signs of violence.

Agents of the department of justice mingled with the crowd. They seized anti-war picket evidence, a circular, one copy of which had been distributed, announcing a meeting of the No-Conscription league on Saturday night.

The persons, one a woman, were arrested after the meeting charged with the distribution of the literature. All the prisoners said they were from Russia. Each was held in $500 bill for examination tomorrow by federal authorities.

Peace Terms Demanded.

The resolutions demanding the president's terms of peace asserted that the Russian provisional government, in its present all-powerful position, had cleared the way for peace negotiations on the basis of "no forcible annexations, no punitive indemnities, and free development of all nations."

The resolutions end with the following:

"Fellow citizens of the United States, make this your demand: Join hands with free Russia, save your own nation from the horrors of war, and help bring Europe to return to the ways of sanity and civilization. Forward for democracy and peace!"

Referendum Aims Urged.

The members of the committee on American liberties, of which the Rev. Richard W. Hogue, director of the Civil Forum of Baltimore, is chairman, urged abolition of "secret diplomacy."

With reference to conscription and "conscientious objectors" the report said:

"It is contrary to American tradition to force them to enroil for war service against their conscience."

James H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, caused a stir when he demanded of the conference: "Shall we accept war?" There was a chorus of "No" and shouts of "We won't fight" and "We won't go to Europe."

LOWDEN TO AID NAVAL STATION MILITARY ROAD

Gov. Lowden, Mayor Thompson, and the mayors of several north shore towns will be guests this afternoon at a special meeting at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. This will be followed by a conference with Capt. W. A. Moffett, commandant, at which time a military highway from Chicago to Great Lakes and on to Waukegan will be discussed.

Capt. Moffett, several days ago after his return from Washington announced the plan to enlarge the station to take care of 27,000 men. He says it is necessary that a roadway of concrete or other permanent material be constructed to handle the heavy automobile and motor truck traffic that will result.

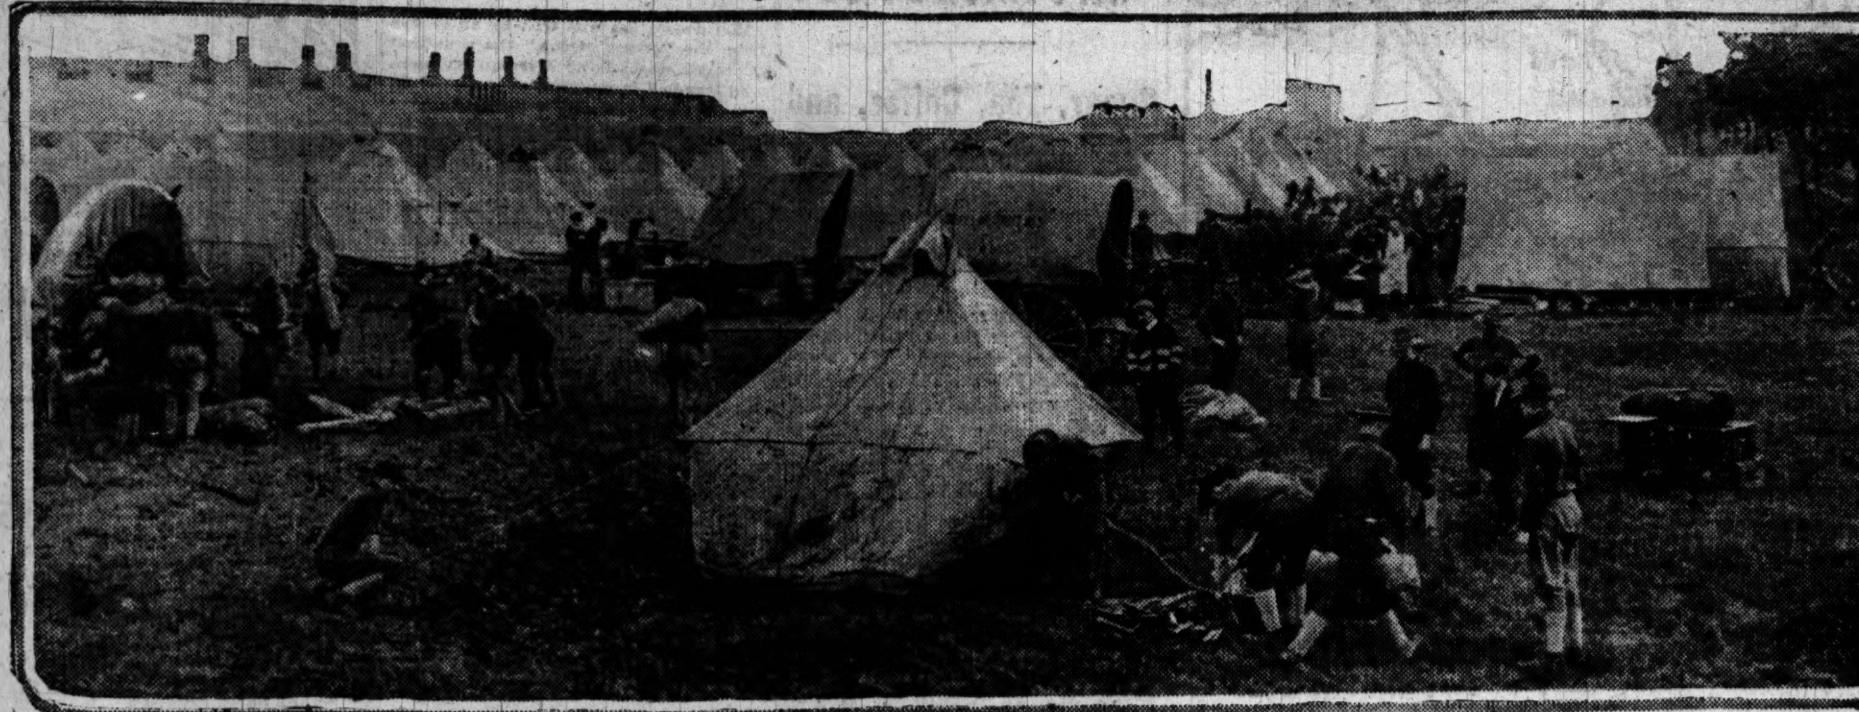

A large part of the supplies for the station will have to be handled by motor truck. Already the station has a number of these trucks and many more will be purchased.

Maj. Ray Is Retired from the Quartermaster Corps

Washington, D. C., May 31.—Army orders today show that Maj. Beecher B. Ray, quartermaster corps, has been released for disability, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. His withdrawal from active service clears the way for promotions in the corps held up for a long period as the result of a controversy which attained the proportions of a sensational congressional inquiry, in which Ray was the central figure.

PETROGRAD MOB FLAUNTS BLACK FLAG IN STREETS

Army Rallies to Plea

BY MILDRED FARWELL.
(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)

PETROGRAD, May 31.—There was an outpouring of anarchists and communists near the Nicolaski station yesterday, the occasion being the arrival of the body of their comrade, Laskov.

The crowds which came in scattered bands to the meeting place, carried in their hands the black flags of the anarchist. Soldiers, mixing with the throng and began to take these flags away from the anarchists and the district commissary proposed to them that they disband.

This they refused to do, protesting that his action was illegal. At that moment a group of Circassian cossacks came out of the station and succeeded in driving the rebels away.

"We are not told what foreign wretches you are," the cossacks said to the soldiers.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF FIGHTING IN THE GREAT WAR

French Re-establish Line
in Champagne Where Foe Pierced It.

FRENCH FRONT.

FRENCH.
PARIS, May 31.—Quite spirited artillery actions occurred in the regions of Vauxzelles, Laffaux, and Hill 108, south of Berry-au-Bac. In the region of Hill 108, after having exploded several mines, occupied some trench elements which had been shattered by explosions.

In Champagne a vigorous counter attack drove back the enemy from points where he had gained a foothold the previous night northeast of Mont Haut, our line being completely re-established.

AVIATION,

Yesterday five German airplanes were brought down by our pilots according to late information, other enemy machines previously reported as having been damaged were in reality destroyed.

DAY STATEMENT.

There was pronounced activity by the artillery south of St. Quentin and the Chemin-des-Dames ridge, north of Soissons, near Cerny and in the vicinity of Hirson, where a number of scattered encounters also occurred.

In the Champagne the enemy made sharp attacks at several points on our front during the night, following violent bombardment, in which poison gas shells and shells from large caliber guns were dispersed. Northwest of Aisne, at Mont-Blanc, the German efforts were repelled by our fire. The enemy attacked with particular strength our positions at the Teton, the Casque, and Mont Haut. We repulsed four different attacks after a struggle of extreme severity. The fighting began at about 2 o'clock and was continued until daybreak. Broken up by our fire, repulsed by the bayonet, and driven back, each time they were hurled back in disorder to the trenches whence they came after having suffered heavy losses. Only at one point on the front attacked, northeast of Mont Haut, did enemy troops gain a footing in some advanced positions. We took a number of prisoners, of whom two are now missing.

On the left bank of the Meuse (Warden front) the artillery fighting was spirited in the region of Hill 304. Two attacks by the enemy were repelled completely.

BRITISH.

LONDON, May 31.—Beyond mutual artillery activity at different points along our front, nothing of special interest occurred during the day.

AVIATION.

Two German airplanes were driven down out of control yesterday. One of our machines is missing.

DAY STATEMENT.

A hostile raiding party was driven off early this morning south of Armentières. We secured a few prisoners. There was considerable artillery activity on both sides during the night in the neighborhood of Bapaume and on the right bank of the Scarpe.

BELGIAN.

PARIS, May 31.—Bomb and grenade fighting was particularly lively in the Scarpe, between Armentières and the Ferryman's house. Before Dixmude there was an intense artillery duel. The usual cannonading took place on the rest of the front.

TAX PACKAGES SENT EXPRESS OR PARCEL POST

Sugar, Tea, Coffee, and Cocoa Also Will Help to Pay U. S. War Bill.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—With further trimming of the $1,800,000,000 war tax bill to $1,500,000,000, the senate finance committee's revision work today reached the stage of detailed drafting, with completion of a measure next Wednesday or Thursday in prospect.

Several new sources of revenue were drawn upon, other house taxes were reduced, and further substitutions adopted. The principal changes affecting the general public included:

A net tax on parcel post packages of 1 cent on each 25 cents or fraction paid by shipper, and adoption of the same rate for express packages as a substitute for the house levy of 6 per cent upon express transportation. The shipper would pay the tax.

Reduction by one-half, or to 5 per cent, of taxes on amounts paid for land or water transportation, including charge for berths, parlor car charges, and mailing of revenue of $35,000,000.

Adoption of excise or consumption taxes, payable eventually by the consumer, of 1/4 cent a pound on sugar, 2 cents on coffee, 5 cents on tea, and 3 cents on coco.

Repeal of the existing law levying a 12½ per cent tax on war munitions, now bringing in $25,000,000 revenue, because of the substitute plan for increasing manufacture and excess profits taxes.

In an effort to agree on an equitable tax upon newspapers, magazines, and other publications now transported for one cent a pound, the committee today arranged for a general conference Saturday night. Chairman Simmons and other members will meet representatives of the publishers and the postoffice department.

Another proposal agreed to maintain compensation decided upon makes the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation, by railroad or water, apply also to freight carried by motor vehicle.

ONLY AMERICAN 'ACE' WINS MEDAL

PARIS, May 31.—Raoul Givens Luberry, the only American "ace" in that aerial pack famed as the Lafayette escadrille, who is credited with having shot down nine German aeroplanes, has been decorated with the English military medal.

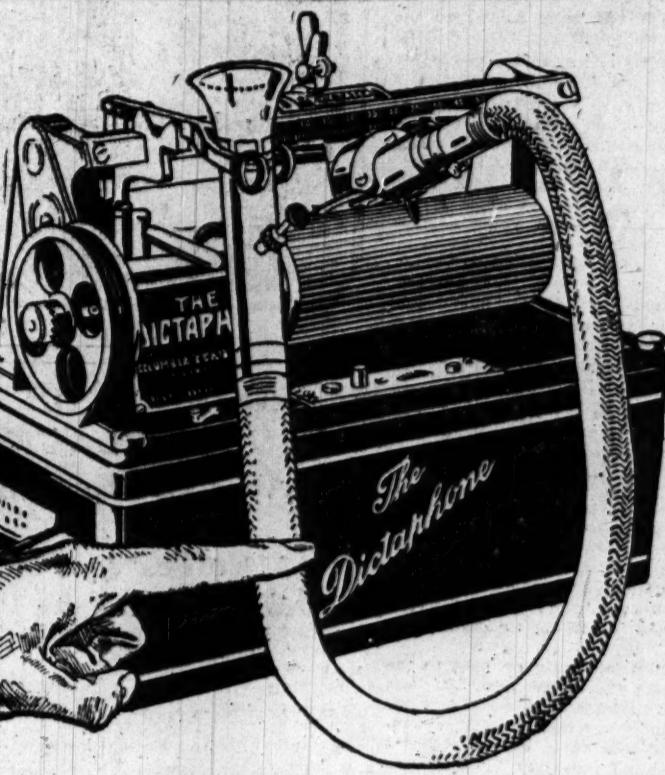

The decoration was won by an escape from the "flying circus," the squadron of seven fast flying German aviators who traveled in company always. While far inside the enemy's lines, Luberry encountered the "flying circus," and although they surrounded him and riddled his plane with bullets, he cut his way through to safety.

Raymond E. Beckwith of Herkimer, N. Y., probably the youngest American soldier, when he went into the trenches two years ago, has been honorably discharged from the Canadian forces and is returning home. He expressed the hope today that he would be able to return with an American army. Beckwith is not yet 17, but has been badly wounded twice.

A Trial Dispels Doubt

Sometimes it's hard to convince a man that there's a better way of doing something. The first typewriter didn't get a very warm reception. Rubber shoes were laughed to scorn when Goodyear introduced them. The man who invented the umbrella was condemned as a charlatan. And people tried these things and thought them good. Here's another Shaving Cream that's different—and makes good. It beats old-line shaving soaps—like the typewriter beats the pen. You'll get a better, easier, quicker shave—if you try.

There are two very good and evident reasons for this move into larger and altogether better quarters for The Dictaphone.

We had to make adequate provision for our present and constantly expanding business that was bulging the walls of our old Dictaphone home, and to enable us to keep Dictaphone service up to its reputation and performance as a complete service.

The Dictaphone is so logically the better way to handle correspondence—from the standpoint of real, provable economy, personal convenience and increased production of finished work—that it is establishing itself as a basic part of modern business.

Now is the time for you to dictate to The Dictaphone—put its efficiency to the test in these days when labor shortage, due to war conditions, makes concentration and real organization a necessity.

HOARDING FOOD WILL BE FELONY UNDER NEW LAW

Storage or Destruction to Affect Prices May Be Criminal.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—Hoarding storage or destruction of food, fuel, or other necessities of life to limit supply or affect prices would be a felony under an amendment to the government's first food bill adopted in the senate today without a record vote.

Several senators protested that the provision was too drastic and would prevent legitimate storing to equalize markets, but all efforts to modify it failed. When Senator Pall proposed that the federal trade commission be empowered to decide whether storing is reasonable Senator Poinsett, author of the amendment, insisted any such change would weaken the effectiveness of the measure as a weapon against speculators.

Violation of the section would be punishable by imprisonment in the penitential for not less than six months nor more than three years. Holding by farmers or others of the products of land cultivated by them is exempted.

Final Vote Is Delayed.

Consideration of the administration
bill which provides for a food survey and stimulation of production, neared the final stage, but the introduction of a number of amendments shortly before adjournment probably will prevent a final vote before Saturday.

An amendment which would authorize the secretary of commerce to take steps to promote more general use of fish to relieve the food stringency was offered by Senator Fletcher. It would permit the secretary to catch and market fish.
A letter from Secretary Redfield in support of the proposal was read by Senator Wadsworth, who based on the ground that it would be the government into the fishing business, and Senator Pittman moved to eliminate the marketing section. The amendment will be discussed again tomorrow.

The second of the food bills, the measure to authorize a food administration and price fixing, was discussed at an executive session of the house committee on agriculture. No amendments were offered, although several are to be presented when the bill is taken up section by section.

Europe Should Abolish Beer."

If the United States continues abolition of the manufacture of beer during the war to conserve grains for food, allied and neutral nations dependent upon this country for cereals also should abolish it, in the opinion of Dr. A. E. Taylor, assistant to the secretary of agriculture, who submitted to congress today a report to aid it in consideration of food legislation.

"Repression of the manufacture of beer is under consideration as an eventual policy," Dr. Taylor said. "For the purpose of saving the brewery involved as a bread grain for consumption by the allies in Europe."

America To Be Fed First.

"Feed America first" will be one of the slogans of the food administration to be managed by Herbert C. Hoover when he assumes authority for his official appointment.

"We want Americans to eat plenty,
but to eat wisely," Mr. Hoover said.
"We shall see to it that the people at home get all they need for their comfort and welfare, but we shall endeavor to show them how to eat wisely so that we also may be able to help feed the people of nations allied with us in the war against Germany."

UPPER INDIANA LEADS COUNTRY IN RECRUITING

Washington, D. C., May 31.—[Special.]—The great agricultural country of the middle west, of which Chicago is the hub, is shown to be the patriotic heart of the nation in figures on army recruiting given out by the war department today.

Fifteen of the first thirty recruiting stations in number of men enlisted are in the Chicago district. Twenty-six of the thirty are in the west, middle west, and southwest. The recruiting figures given out were the returns for April.

The Fort Wayne, Ind., district had a long lead, having filled 75.2 per cent of its quota by the end of April. Since then the quota has been entirely filled.

The Fort Wayne district includes Elkhart, Gary, Hammond, Hartford, Indiana Harbor, Kokomo, Logansport, Michigan City, Portland, Rochester, South Bend, and Valparaiso.

Paris Women Strikers Keeping the Police Busy

PARIS, May 31.—Strikes continue in the various women's industries, including the women railroad employees, who are asking an increase in wages. The companies made concessions, but these were not sufficient to satisfy the claims. Groups of women continue to gather at the labor headquarters and along the boulevards and streets. The police keep them moving, and so far no disturbance has occurred.

Mrs. J. D. Sherman Answers
Hurry Call for War Parley in Washington.

MRS. JOHN DICKENSON
SHERMAN, chairman of the conservative committee of the National Federation of Y.W.C.A. clubs, arrived in Chicago yesterday at 3:30 and left at 5:30 for Washington on the invitation of Herbert C. Hoover, who requested her presence at a conference on home economics, which will take place there tomorrow.

Mrs. Sherman had gone to Denver for a few hours from her summer home in East Park, where she found a telegram asking her to come at once to Washington.

"I got right on the train," said Mrs. Sherman. "I didn't even have a clean waist with me. But clothes don't matter much now. I believe in women standardizing their clothes as much as possible and getting along without frills."

She said that great rearmament
of the home life of women
Secretary Lane said recently that 50 per cent of our success in winning this war depended upon the women, and we must not disappoint our country. Putting a stop to extravagance does not mean hysterical economy,
however, or extreme self-denial.

Mrs. Sherman expressed herself as being much impressed by the way in which the war work of women in Illinois is being organized. "Illinois is far ahead of any of the other states in this respect," she said.

'BOND FOR BRIDE' IS JUNE SLOGAN OF DEBUTANTES

"Liberty" Securities Are Called Most Suitable for Wedding Gifts.

Liberty bonds are to be popular gifts for June brides.

The problem of what to give the bride
has been solved by common agreement among Chicago debutantes who have declared themselves as in favor of the plan adopted by Secretary McAdoo at the wedding of his daughter, Nona, when he gave her several of the new gold bonds.

"It is the surest way of finding something that is certain to be acceptable and also of doing one's bit for Uncle Sam," said Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour.

"Any other year I should consider a bond an exceedingly dull sort of gift,"

said the wife of Miss Elizabeth Hoyt of Winnetka, but now a Liberty bond would be a most interesting and inspiring gift for any bride."

Liberty loan salesmen began work in the city hall yesterday. They visited two offices and were given subscriptions totaling $25,000.

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, started the campaign in his office with a subscription of $1,000.

Twenty-one out of twenty-five employes of the city treasurer's office subscribed for bonds, and Joseph Ruskewicz, assistant city treasurer, placed an order for $10,000 worth of bonds in the name of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America.

"The 'why' of the Liberty loan and what it means in the way of liberty's securities may be purchased were explained to all officials of the police department in the office of Chief Schuetz-er.

The Western Union Telegraph company has given notice to all its employes receiving more than $500 a year that the company will advance 25 per cent of the salary of those who wish to buy bonds to be repaid in installments covering eighteen months.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—Sp-

Mr. Wolter is going to employ moving vans at unpeopled crownings per hour
just to move from 1119 to 1117 Loyola avenue you may jolly well guess

again.

Until yesterday the Wolters resided in the third apartment at 1119 Loyola avenue. Mr. Wolter gave up this apartment and, in looking about for another, hit upon one just across an awesomely to the eastward. And to behind, it is a third apartment.

Mr. Wolter started off to hire a van,
but as he bestowed another look at that fifteen feet of awesomely he was seized of an inspiration. Forthwith he got out his measuring implements and tools. Before an hour had passed he gazed upon a suspension bridge that passed from the old flat to the new one with strength, beauty, and simplicity. He tested it and found it not lacking in either. Yesterday he moved over half the furniture and today the remainder goes over.

CALL 230 MEN TO FILL GAPS AT FT. SHERIDAN

Belated Orders to Class B
Applicants Bring Joyful Responses.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., May 31.—[Special.] Two hundred and thirty more applicants—140 from Illinois and ninety from Michigan and Wisconsin—were ordered today to report as soon as possible at the Fort Sheridan reserve officers' training camp.

Their names are taken from the class list, the second group, and while their name was not subscriberized, and it is believed that this late call will bring joy to the hearts of many who feared they would be compelled to take their chances on the opening of a second camp. Almost since the first day of actual training, Col. W. J. Nicholson, the commandant, has turned down hundreds of pleas for admission. The openings now however the commandant of the registration yesterday showed the camp about 194 men of the 5,000 quota.

Ordered to Fill Camp.

The reporting of this fact was followed this morning by the receipt of an order from Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Johnson, the commandant, directing that the camp be filled up at once. Recognizing that the late call would find many men unable to start at once for the camp, telegrams were dispatched to 230 men, or thirty-six more than the required number. Before dark the telegrams of reply were pouring in.

"Will arrive on first train," was one of these messages.

"Will report at once," read others.

The new men will start in approximately three weeks, and will remain in training, but they also will miss some of the inconveniences which marked the early days of the camp. Their chief loss will be in the physical training the rest of the camp has received.

The names were not made public.

"They will not be given out," said Col. Nicholson, "until after they report. They were selected for merit alone. Those applicants who do not receive telegrams will know their names are not on it."

His statement was taken to mean efforts toward wire pulling may be spared.

Cuts Mess Expense.

There was a general saving in the barracks this afternoon when it became known that Capt. W. P. Moffet, mess officer of the camp, had found it possible to cut the cost of rations down to the 75 cents a day paid by the war department. The additional 25 cents a day requested from each student will not be necessary, and money already paid in for this purpose will be refunded.

Capt. C. C. Wiss, who made the decision after Capt. Moffet had reported to him that he has been able to keep the mess cost per man down to 75 cents a day in spite of the fact that he has served "officers' meals."

To many of the men who apparently

The additional personnel I have outlined above, like the militia, the reserve force, etc., will bring me a group amounting to nearly 280,000 or 300,000, for which medical care must be provided.

Kayser Silk Gloves are the best value because

The Fat of 10 Quarts Milk in One Pound Butter

A pound of butter contains the fat—the main energy giving food—of ten quarts or twenty pounds of milk of average richness. (U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Bulletin 142.) Butter is wholly the product of milk except the two or three percent of salt it contains.

Everyone knows that milk and cream are good food—easily digested, healthful and strength giving. Butter is the energy-giving constituent of milk. You are able to work day after day only in proportion to the amount of energy food you eat.

Butter is the highest form of energy food and no other food can equal energy value be obtained at so low a cost. A pound of butter gives as much energy food as four pounds of beef, four pounds of mutton, three pounds of pork chops, five dozen eggs and so on through the list of commonly used foods.

You Need Not Eat Butter Only, But—

By eating more butter with other foods you increase the energy value of those foods, and by eating more butter and less of other foods you actually live better, feel better and spend less.

Butter is the best fat for cooking. Food cooked in butter is more appetizing, nourishing and healthful than when cooked with any other fat.

There is no Substitute for Butter

Buy your butter by name. See that it bears the Meadow Gold label. It is a guarantee of purity, of uniform flavor, of crispy freshness.

Meadow Gold Butter is churned daily from pure, pasteurized cream; triple wrapped and hermetically sealed at the creamery. Sold only in original yellow cartons.

By
JAMES M. BECK

Author of "The Evidence in the Case"

First published in November, 1916, this powerful discussion of America and the World War has made a deep impression on both sides of the Atlantic. It made history in its potent influence upon American public opinion. Selected chapters (as the burning indictment of the Cavelli execution and Mr. Beck's now historic speech in London on "America and the Allies") have been circulated all over the world in the English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Greek and Dutch languages.

"I most earnestly hope that there will be a wide circulation of Mr. Beck's 'War and Humanity.' It is the kind of a book which every self-respecting American, who loves his country, should read. I believe that its circulation throughout the whole land would have a very real effect in educating public opinion as to the duty of America in this great world crisis."—Extract from the Foreword by THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Mr. Beck's volume was a classic the moment it appeared. We know of no more logical and lucid discussion of the essential facts and problems of the great war, nor any more truly, consistently and even vigorously American in its spirit."—New York Tribune.

"One of the most virile and convincing books that the great war has produced in any country of the world."—New York Sun.

"Dignified, clear and dispassionate, a masterly analysis of fundamental factors, leavened with noble and persuasive sentiments."—London Telegraph.

Police to Testify Against Former Aldermen on Graft Charge.

Two police officers—David J. Haynes and John Kelly—who are said to have the displeasure of former Ald. Oscar De Priest, a Negro, "because they dared to raid gambling houses in which De Priest had a 'friendly interest,'" will be among the former commissioners to appear at the trial for conspiracy in Judge's Barrett's court today. Kelly was reduced to "house arrest" and Haynes went to the woods—"Kensington."

Discomfited First Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnston Jr. mentioned in his opening statement to the jury yesterday while painting De Priest as the chief conspirator of the "black belt gambling syndicate."

Johnston Outlines Case.

Mr. Johnston sketched in a dramatic statement what the state expected to show. It included these charges:

In April, 1916, De Priest, just elected to the city council and knowing gambling existed in the Second ward, conspired with Capt. Stephen K. Healy of Stanton avenue to share in the profits of gambling houses. To that end he caused numerous houses to be raided until they were driven into the syndicate and paid for protection.

He employed Henry "Teenan" Jones, a gambler, to act as police fixer. On several occasions Jones took graft to De Priest's office. On one occasion he gave De Priest $500, on another $800, and $900 on two others. Another fixer, a colored agent, was also a part of the syndicate.

Numerous gambling houses opened and were driven into the syndicate which De Priest headed. Occasional raids were made, but only for effect. Some gambling clubs paid from $500 to $600 a month and the largest, the Blue Jay, from $3,000 to $3,200 a month. Police protection varied from $250 to $280 monthly. De Priest's surety, ranging from $600 to $1,000, helped him to his active assistance to the conspiracy, having succeeded Capt. Ryan, whom De Priest had removed from the south side because he wouldn't "go along with him."

Gamblers Give Evidence.

Preliminary to the more important testimony of "Teenan" Jones and Capt. Healy, who has made a full confession and will be the state's last witness, Negro gamblers and others were placed on the stand yesterday and developed the following situation:

J. W. Jones, Negro gambler, 11 West Thirty-fifth street, testified that in 1916 he ran "Mexico" Frank's gambling club at 2501 South Dearborn street, that he moved to 3502 and started the El Guyana club of his own. He was raided about eighteen times and then investigated to learn why. He discovered that others were running unregistered, he said, so he went to see Capt. Healy and wanted to know the reason. Healy sent him to De Priest and De Priest sent "Teenan." Then "Teenan" Jones made a deal with him and installed Ed Moten, a Negro, as the syndicate's representative in Jones' club.

Thereafter the police left him alone

To the School Children of Chicago:

The President says: "In our time of trouble, all American citizens should think together, work together and serve together."

The President expects all citizens, every man, woman and child to help the best he can!

Fathers and brothers of Chicago will soon go to fight our battles for us. Many of them will be sick or wounded far away from home. Some of their families may be in need while they are away. The American Red Cross will take care of them.

They will send Doctors and Nurses to care for our soldiers the way you would want your brother cared for if he should be in trouble far from home.

The people who become members do not have to pay themselves. All they are expected to do is to pay one dollar each. Then the Red Cross can send them to those trained to help. You will be happy in the future if you do your part now.

and until such time, he said, as "Teenan" complained about the size of the profits and Moten left. After that, without a syndicate agent in his place, Jones said, he was raided again and had to quit. Jones' story was sandwiched between expositions on how to "shoot craps," the popular game in the clubs concerned in the trial.

ATTACK ON BAR ASSN. SLATE IS DECIDED TODAY

On the eve of the counting of the ballots in the hotly contested bar association election, both sides expressed confidence in the outcome.

Managers of both candidates—Joseph W. Moses, the "regular," and James M. Sheean, the insurgent—disclaimed all responsibility for any personalities that may have crept in.

The vital issue was merely whether the "machine," as the officials' organization has come to be termed by the more radical insurgents, or the regulars, holding aloft the time honored precedents of succession in office shall prevail.

The candidacy of Mr. Sheean, it was stated, was in part a protest against "precedent."

Party of 45 from Chicago Arrives in France for War Service.

From young men from Chicago and its environs arrived in a French port on a French liner on Memorial day. Their numbers included J. L. Patten, son of the wheat king; Wilbur E. Highwater, the Northwestern university football star, and Robert Redfield Jr., a University of Chicago student. Most of the young men will enter the American ambulance service.

Aside from those mentioned the party included:

The party sailed from this country on Saturday, May 12.

Upon the school children of Chicago is to be placed the heavy responsibility of bringing in the Red Cross membership up to the $900,000 mark. Every child in school is to be asked to try to obtain five members, and application blanks, containing an appeal by Supt. John D. Shoop, were sent to the schools yesterday.

The children are to return the application blanks and the membership dues to the teachers, who will forward them to the campaign headquarters. Special efforts are to be made to get the children to do their duty next Tuesday, which has been called because of the description registration day, to get the official campaign ends Saturday night.

Pupil Above Third Grade.

All children above the third grade, more than 400,000 of them, will be asked to do what they can.

Mr. Shoop issued a statement also to the teachers and principals. He pointed out that there is to be no coercion or overpersuasion in handling the matter with the children. He urges the teachers to respond to the request of the selection committee to assist the election machinery in registering men for military service.

The third statement which came from the Red Cross headquarters was signed by Walter D. Moody, campaign director.

He fears that there will be a let-up in the effort of some of the large organizations which are recruiting Red Cross members because the official campaign ends Saturday night.

Must Close Work.

"While the official inauguration activities will cease on Sunday to make way for other important Red Cross work to follow, the activities of the workers in the field will continue for the next two weeks until their enrollments are all recorded at headquarters. Large returns are still expected from the labor unions, the political precinct workers, the churches, the women's clubs, and the fraternal organizations."

FURNITURE OFTEN

That Is, If You Want to Preserve the Beauty of Its Fine Varnished and Enamelled Surfaces

Some folks never think of cleaning their furniture—even the fine pieces—except at the time of general housecleaning in spring and fall. And this neglect is the reason why its beauty often rapidly fades. Dirt—especially "invisible dirt"—is the worst enemy of fine varnish. It gets into the finish and destroys its life.

Get rid of it quickly and easily, with Tobey Polish, made from the old secret shop formula of The Tobey Furniture Company (Chicago and New York). It is a perfect cleanser; requires no hard rubbing; wipes off dry. Nourishes the finish; maintains its full body and color.

Your dealer will supply you. Bottles, 25c and 50c; quart, $1. This mark on every package.

two police officers—David J. Haynes and John Kelly—who are said to have the displeasure of former Ald. Oscar De Priest, a Negro, "because they dared to raid gambling houses in which De Priest had a 'friendly interest,'" will be among the former commissioners to appear at the trial for conspiracy in Judge's Barrett's court today. Kelly was reduced to "house arrest" and Haynes went to the woods—"Kensington."

Discomfited First Assistant

State's Attorney Frank Johnston Jr. mentioned in his opening statement to the jury yesterday while painting De Priest as the chief conspirator of the "black belt gambling syndicate."

Johnston Outlines Case.

All included these charges:

In April, 1916, De Priest, just elected to the city council and knowing gambling existed in the Second ward, conspired with Capt. Stephen K. Healy of Stanton avenue to share in the profits of gambling houses. To that end he caused numerous houses to be raided until they were driven into the syndicate and paid for protection.

He employed Henry "Teenan" Jones, a gambler, to act as police fixer. On several occasions Jones took graft to De Priest's office. On one occasion he gave De Priest $500, on another $800, and $900 on two others. Another fixer, a colored agent, was also a part of the syndicate.

Numerous gambling houses opened and were driven into the syndicate which De Priest headed. Occasional raids were made, but only for effect. Some gambling clubs paid from $500 to $600 a month and the largest, the Blue Jay, from $3,000 to $3,200 a month. Police protection varied from $250 to $280 monthly. De Priest's surety, ranging from $600 to $1,000, helped him to his active assistance to the conspiracy, having succeeded Capt. Ryan, whom De Priest had removed from the south side because he wouldn't "go along with him."

Gamblers Give Evidence.

Preliminary to the more important testimony of "Teenan" Jones and Capt. Healy, who has made a full confession and will be the state's last witness, Negro gamblers and others were placed on the stand yesterday and developed the following situation:

J. W. Jones, Negro gambler, 11 West Thirty-fifth street, testified that in 1916 he ran "Mexico" Frank's gambling club at 2501 South Dearborn street, that he moved to 3502 and started the El Guyana club of his own. He was raided about eighteen times and then investigated to learn why. He discovered that others were running unregistered, he said, so he went to see Capt. Healy and wanted to know the reason. Healy sent him to De Priest and De Priest sent "Teenan." Then "Teenan" Jones made a deal with him and installed Ed Moten, a Negro, as the syndicate's representative in Jones' club.

Thereafter the police left him alone

and until such time, he said, as "Teenan" complained about the size of the profits and Moten left. After that, without a syndicate agent in his place, Jones said, he was raided again and had to quit. Jones' story was sandwiched between expositions on how to "shoot craps," the popular game in the clubs concerned in the trial.

ATTACK ON BAR ASSN. SLATE IS DECIDED TODAY

On the eve of the counting of the ballots in the hotly contested bar association election, both sides expressed confidence in the outcome.

Managers of both candidates—Joseph W. Moses, the "regular," and James M. Sheean, the insurgent—disclaimed all responsibility for any personalities that may have crept in.

The vital issue was merely whether the "machine," as the officials' organization has come to be termed by the more radical insurgents, or the regulars, holding aloft the time honored precedents of succession in office shall prevail.

The candidacy of Mr. Sheean, it was stated, was in part a protest against "precedent."

Forty Club Bids Farewell to S. E. Kiser, Paper Man

S. E. Kiser, well known for years as a poet and feature writer for Chicago newspapers, was the guest last night at a dinner of the Forty club, by way of a farewell to Mr. Kiser, who leaves today for New York. The dinner was given by the Dayton Daily News. Wilbur D. Nesbit was elected president and Mr. Kiser vice president for life. All members then joined the Red Cross and then bought a Liberty bond.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."

—Stephen Decatur.

ANNEXING THE BRITISH NAVY.

Col. Roosevelt, defining patriotism, says that a man cannot love two countries, any more than he can love two wives. We propose not to love the British, but to make use of them in exchange for the money they have of us.

We do not love the British. They do not love us. At the present there are many kindly phrases exchanged between the two countries. British statesmanship is suave and can be belligerent. Just now it is particularly gracious towards us. There is less of this in the United States because many Americans see British troubles making trouble for them.

But, although there are many causes of irritation in the normal relations of the two nations, there are no points of hostile contact so far as the policies of the two are concerned. In the development and maintenance of the American republic and the British empire there is no conflict. The United States has no thought of acquiring Canada. The British have no desire for any American possessions. Commercial rivalry might be serious, but military competition is not in the reasonable expectations.

We are going to Great Britain's aid with men, money, ships, and food when the situation for the enemies of Germany is admittedly dangerous. We are doing this to protect the United States. It is our belief that Great Britain and France must be preserved if this republic is to be safe.

This being our object, it ought to be known as the object, and it ought to have a definite promise of results. We cannot afford to have the British navy reduced from its controlling position. That would leave the seas free to an invader. Some Americans may hate the British, but they know that there is no danger of a British invader.

Before the war the British navy was an asset of the United States. It is useless to say that if we would make our own navy strong enough we should not be humiliated by dependence upon another. We have not done it, and, furthermore, if we seriously challenged British sea supremacy we should have war with Great Britain. The British empire ceases to exist when the British lose control of the sea. Great Britain is gone when it surrenders sea supremacy. It becomes a dependent.

An alliance which joined the American and British navies for offensive and defensive purposes would make both countries safe. Such an agreement would be one of purely practical purpose. It would have no affection in it. We could give fully as much as we received and be equal partners in an arrangement protecting all our interests.

That would be a definite object to be attained by entering the war. The guaranty that the alliance would hold and that the agreement would be kept can be found in the conditions which govern the relations of the two nations.

If Great Britain broke the agreement and attacked us it could put our commerce off the seas, take our detached possessions, chase us out of the Caribbean, and probably take the Panama canal from us. We might be glad enough to lose the Philippines, but certainly would be hard hit by the other losses.

We, if we are going to be sensible enough to keep an army after we have raised one, could take Canada. We could not do it now, but if we keep an army the size the United States ought to have we could and would. Both the United States and Great Britain would have so much to lose if they broke their agreement and went to war that the certain losses to themselves would guarantee the alliance.

The United States and Canada are the granaries of Great Britain. It needs the American and Canadian fields. With control of the sea and with American and Canadian resources open, Great Britain's maintenance is assured.

Every practical consideration recommends such an alliance to all nations. It would insure safety and stability. It would prevent attack. It would instantly solve our Japanese question. We know that large numbers of our citizens dislike the English and that they would write at the thought of an alliance. That is putting sentiment against practicality and doing damage to the interests of the country to please some of the people emotionally.

We do not propose to love the British, but to use them. What other combination can the United States make? No combination would be of use to us unless it meant control of the sea. The American navy and the British navy could have unquestioned control and no other combination would.

Americans and the British have a common culture, common language, and the same literature. British traditions and laws are ours. These are the elements in the foundation of an agreement, no matter how much irritation may be caused in the minor relations of two peoples.

By annexing the British navy, by increasing our own; and by maintaining a real army we could protect the United States against any combination of enemies in the world. That is our material interest in the war.

IN RE THE GOOSE THAT LAYS THE GOLDEN EGG.—

While business men do not feel they are out of the woods, yet they are less disturbed now that the Senate seems to be working toward something like an equitable compromise on the war revenue bill. The prospect that the house measure, carrying a total tax of nearly $2,000,000,000, might become a law had a disorganizing effect on industry, not to mention its congealing effect on the market for Liberty bonds. The action of the Senate finance committee, therefore, is having a tendency to restore business confidence.

It was customary for those who loudly demanded "conscription of wealth" to allege that the financial authorities who opposed the house bill were actuated solely by self-interest. These radicals would not admit that enlightened self-interest might, after all, be a good guide; the fact that a man appealed for the preservation of his business was for them only an argument for taking away his money.

Subsequent developments have effectively answered taxation theories of that kind. The irritation caused by the house bill was not confined to financial circles alone; it spread to nearly every citizen and to nearly every industrial activity in the country. It became apparent that "little business" would suffer just as much as "big business," if not more.

But perhaps the most decisive answer to the radicals is the disposition of the financial men to accept the senate's proposal to raise $1,500,000,000 by taxation. They believe that is considerably in excess of the amount that would be justified by sound economic policy; nevertheless they are prepared to support it cheerfully. Their objection to the house bill was, after all, based principally on the inequitable and unsound methods by which the money was to be raised.

RAPACIOUS NATIONS.

If a rapacious nation is one which goes forth to take land it wants—and has or has not pied—every strong nation has been rapacious.

The American republic began as a fringe on the Atlantic seaboard, and now its possessions are in all parts of the earth. When it was a fringe its back was against the Appalachians, and beyond them were lands belonging to many other peoples. It turned its face in that direction and took all the lands.

If we had continued the march west and south as it was begun we should be in Mexico City now, or be fighting our way there, but the impulse was not strong enough last summer. It may return. We could not safely foreclose the future.

We have taken what we wanted, generally in a moral way, sometimes in a casual way, and sometimes in a brutal fashion. We got what we wanted. It is the way of man, occasionally modifying his desires and adjusting them to his moral scruples and occasionally letting his moral scruples adjust themselves to the accomplishment of his desires.

Germans regard the French as a rapacious nation. They have complained because the French sometimes went forth to conquer, not because they wanted or needed the land they would occupy, but because glory was to be won by conquering it. Germans of real politic regarded this as little short of a sin. Love of military accomplishment, they said, ought not to guide a nation. It became an unsafe neighbor. One never knew when it would feel the cry of glory and start in search of it.

Pragmatic statesmen can deal with a nation whose material aims can be estimated, but a nation whose history is one giving frequent instances of wars of the impudent cannot be guarded against. Thus the German view of France and the reason the Germans think of France as an essentially military nation. The French, peaceful and peace loving as they were in the very shadow of the German menace, worshipped at the shrine of Napoleon, the great exemplar of conquest for conquest.

The stretch of the British empire is sufficient evidence that an appetite for territory was strong in the island of Great Britain. The march of the Russians indicates that they felt an impulse to put their boots on strange soil and take over the towns of strange peoples. It has been so and is so with all strong people. Japan is urged to consider that her destiny is world-wide. Her activities in China indicate that she is not averse to letting destiny take its course.

The world has been under the control of this from the beginning of time. Germany is the rapacious nation now, and it is our concern to see that the impulse to put a boot on strange soil does not put a German boot on American soil.

We do not feel inclined to indulge in moralism, but to take such precautions as will prevent the event. Such precautions are being taken. They will be taken successfully, we know. The time for the invader's boot to touch American soil has not come, but any one who thinks that the last invader will pass with the destruction of German military power—if German military power be destroyed—has strange confidence in the ability of the human race to change its disposition overnight.

Editorial of the Day

A COUNSEL OF FOLLY.

[From the New York World.] Just why "the department of state considers it dangerous and of service to the enemy to discuss differences of opinion between the allies and difficulties with neutral countries" or why "speculation about possible peace is another topic which may possibly elements of danger, as peace reports may be of origin"—these matters are too deep and complicated for the ordinary mind of man to comprehend; but they are submitted as a sort of appendix to the sane and reasonable rules for the guidance of the press in war which have been put forth by the Creel committee.

These suggestions from the state department furnish a clew, perhaps, to much of the opposition in congress to the administration's censorship measures. When it is possible for the state department solemnly to advise American newspapers not to discuss such differences as may exist between the new Russian government and the other allies, or the food controversies between the neutrals and the allies, or tentative peace proposals from German sources, it would be astonishing indeed if congress did not balk.

We can think of nothing better calculated to defeat any censorship than the suggestions made by the secretary of state, and we are free to admit that a censorship under which such repression would be possible ought to be defeated. Nothing could be more objectionable. Nothing could be more un-American. Nothing could be less in harmony with the spirit of every word the president himself has spoken on the subject.

As an advocate of an honest and fair censorship the world is bound to say that Mr. Lansing and Mr. Gregory have done more to defeat it than all its avowed opponents. It is they who have fastened upon it the taint of suspicion, the latter by the drastic and despotic provisions of the original bill and the former by his absurd recommendations for the stifling of public discussion of foreign affairs. It is they who have made even the stanchest friends of a censorship measure doubtful as to the spirit in which the law would be executed if Mr. Lansing and the attorney general had anything to do with its enforcement.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Motto: Here to the Line, Let the quips fall where they may.

FOR his third confidential adviser, the secretary of war has chosen Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard. A hot dog of war.

THE other advisers are Dean Kipps of Columbia and Walter Lippman. Kipps, Lippman, and Frankfurter! Dreimal hoch!

The Sober Second Sight.

Sir: In a park in Dublin two ladies of the proletariat were watching an elderly clergymen playing with some children. "Oh," said the first lady, "isn't he the grand old priest, an' he playin' that way with the young children?" "Priest?" said the second lady. "Priest me eye! That's a Protestant minister!" "Well!" said the first lady. "Isn't he the dirty old fool!" DONNYBROOK.

"THE month of June opens with a prolonged storm period, spreading from the 2d to the 28th, centering on the 8th, on which day earthquakes and seismic disturbances in all their intensities are indicated."—Forecast by the astrologer Zariel.

As we know Zariel personally we shall begin work at once on a cyclone cellar.

PANIC.

Pan kiddeth me! The Columbian shakes: But though my name in vain he takes, I worship his pure ministry, As pens in hand he kiddeth me.

He kiddeth me! He kiddeth me! Fair butterfly soon' look at me; What though I chase from "O" to sea, She flutters by!—Pan kiddeth me!

AQUARIUS.

AT the First American Conference on Democracy and Terms of Peace it was resolved as the sense of the meeting that "the first thing democracy must win is the fight against conscription." This would be entirely satisfactory to Fotsdam, which would cheerfully dig up a few more millions of marks to help the good work along.

Another Fertile Approaches.

Sir: My good friend (one is always in Japan) Hon. Onosuke Yamamoto, on his first invasion of America, has armed himself with a vocabulary exceeding in range and destructiveness only by the verbal munitions of Doc. Hammond. All the way across the Pacific he has been tucking slang dittums in his cartridge belt and when he lets loose in the Land there is going to be no holding him back.

We have taken what we wanted, generally in a moral way, sometimes in a casual way, and sometimes in a brutal fashion. We got what we wanted. It is the way of man, occasionally modifying his desires and adjusting them to his moral scruples and occasionally letting his moral scruples adjust themselves to the accomplishment of his desires.

TONSILS AND RHEUMATICISM.

Mrs. H. P. writes: "I have a tonsil from the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs under took to establish a bureau for an estimate of the number of unregistered babies in Chicago. This committee canvassed the children in three schools, asking each child if a baby had come to its house during the last twelve months. The children replied in the affirmative, when given birth certificates for the new baby and asked to have the parents fill it out, whereupon the child was to bring it back to the teacher.

Fifty certificates were filled out and returned. Of the fifty twenty-one were found to be registered and twenty-eight were not. This would indicate that somewhere in the hands of babies in Chicago are not registered during the first twelve months of life. At an infant welfare meeting in a department store it was found that eight mothers of babies out of forty-nine present had not registered their babies. This would indicate that 16 per cent of the parents fail to register their babies. Let us say that the percentage lies between 16 and 50 per cent.

The United States census office has established a registration area for births.

A state to be entered in the registration area must be able to convince the census office that 90 per cent of its babies are registered with a reasonable degree of promptness.

The only states in the registration area are the six in the New England group—New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, the Pacific slope, New Jersey, and all of the Mississippi valley except Minnesota and Michigan fall below standard. The Illinois law, with the laws in many other states, has been approved by the United States census office.

The state with the administration and not with the legislation. The state board can no longer "pass the buck."

THE BLOOD PRESSURE.

W. H. R. writes: "My wife's age is 58, weight 160, and she has a blood pressure of 165. She has been examined by a local physician, and her kidneys are all right. She is nervous and has the malady of a business man, getting out much time in the day. Otherwise she is very healthy and looks fine.

Does high blood pressure indicate a weak heart? 2. What would be the best way to reduce this high blood pressure? 3. Would walking an hour every day help? 4. What effect does excitement or exertion have?"

REPLY.

1. There is at least suspicion enough that your trouble is through your tonics to warrant you in having them examined. If your physician advises removal on the advice.

2. Diet, attention to the bowels, regulation of the kidneys generally.

3. It is done rightly, yes.

4. Raises the pressure.

LIP READING.

Miss S. A. writes: "1. When can books on lip reading be obtained, and are they self-instructive? 2. Can a totally deaf middle aged person of a congenital school education be taught to lip read?"

REPLY.

1. Write to Yerkes, 1601 Thirty-fifth street, N. W., Washington, D. C. for its list of books and pamphlets on lip reading.

2. Yes, if persistent and determined.

POSSIBLE HEMORRHOIDS.

B. L. writes: "Is there any need for fear alarmed over passing blood when at the stool? Recently I have had this experience and do not know how to account for it."

REPLY.

I judge you have hemorrhoids. Whether you should do anything about this symptom depends on the amount of blood lost, the frequency of the hemorrhage, and the presence or absence of pain and other symptoms.

CHILDREN TELLING TALES IN SCHOOL

A S ONE of the social activities of Baby week a committee from the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs undertook to establish a bureau for an estimate of the number of unregistered babies in Chicago. This committee canvassed the children in three schools, asking each child if a baby had come to its house during the last twelve months. The children replied in the affirmative, when given birth certificates for the new baby and asked to have the parents fill it out, whereupon the child was to bring it back to the teacher.

Fifty certificates were filled out and returned. Of the fifty twenty-one were found to be registered and twenty-eight were not. This would indicate that 16 per cent of the parents fail to register their babies. Let us say that the percentage lies between 16 and 50 per cent.

NOT A BASIS FOR CONCLUSION. S. H. P. writes: "Cereals, fresh and cooked vegetables, bread [white, bran, and whole wheat], cooked and fresh fruit, some pastry and candy, with a moderate amount of meat and from one to two cups of coffee form the bulk of my diet each day. I drink a glass of hot water before breakfast and go through a series of exercises for the intestines, liver, kidneys, breathing, etc."

I have found after eating spinach and carrots that bread the starch is very dark, becoming lighter as the diet is continued, but still remaining darker than when under ordinary diet.

Does this indicate special need of these foods, showing lack of proper action or function of some organ previous to the diet, or is it the natural result from these two foods?"

REPLY.

You cannot draw any conclusion from the sign noticed.

You cannot go, even though your blood thrills and boils with that same absorbing DESIRE to be on the FIRING LINE which stirs the SOUL of YOUR TRUE AMERICAN BOY. Certainly there are but few of us who have had anything like a realization that OUR COUNTRY is engaged in a war of proportions such as the entire world never dreamed. The fighters will and MUST be OUR BOYS. There is no dodging this fact. On June 5th, next, every male person in this UNITED STATES of AMERICA, between the ages of 21 to 31 years, must register for war duty. If called, they MUST go, and before this year is over there will be many vacant places at the fireside. Then you will realize that we ARE at War.

Have you stopped to consider how YOU are to HELP—FATHERS, MOTHERS, BROTHERS, SISTERS? How are you going to DO YOUR BIT? The BOYS will need all the help you can give them. The Government needs and must have your financial help, and YOUR ONLY WAY to give YOUR BOY assistance, which he is entitled to, is through the LIBERTY LOAN.

There is not one "IF" nor one "AND"—IT IS YOUR DUTY. The great purpose of the LIBERTY LOAN is to finance the Army and the Navy, and that means YOUR BOY. You should not hesitate to help finance YOUR BOY on the FIRING LINE in a far-away country.

DON'T invalidate the SPIRIT of YOUR BOY. If he is willing to give his life, you certainly should be willing to loan, or even GIVE the Government your money without hesitation, as it is the only way to prove that you are back of the BOY who is facing death for you and Country.

Fathers, Mothers, you have noted with the greatest admiration the eagerness with which YOUR BOY saluted the colors and stepped forward to defend the honor of his Country. You have been inspired at the fearless and unselfish way in which he answered the Nation's call. Back of it all was the thought of YOU. In order to WIN this war, with its Allies, this COUNTRY has offered you the LIBERTY LOAN. In going to War, your boy thought of YOU. Now, right now, is the time for YOU to think of HIM. ## ARTILLERY NEED AS WAR OPENED CHECKED ALLIES

Lack of Trench Warfare Material Also a Big Disadvantage.

BY COL. HENRY J. REILLY.

The following article it has been shown that in spite of the tremendous allied superiority in population, the first few weeks of the war found 1,300,000 Frenchmen, aided by 80,000 British and the remnants of the Belgian army, facing 2,000,000 Germans. It also was brought out that, due to the geographical situation of Poland and the lack of a sufficient development of the Polish industrial system, the Russian mobilization had to be made in Poland proper rather than Poland, and was much slower than that of the French and Germans.

As a consequence the Germans had the time to fight the campaign which ended in their defeat on the Marne; to retreat to the Aisne; to settle down there in an impregnable position; to exhaust every line of trench warfare to the sea, before the Russian pressure became sufficiently great to compel them to transfer a considerable portion of their troops from the western to the eastern or Russian front.

German Heavy Guns Superior.
During this fighting certain superiorities in the German equipment were brought out. As was expected, the French light field gun, commonly known as the 75, proved itself superior to the German 77. However, the Germans brought into the field heavy guns which soon showed their greater marching. In a few days, the defense of Lige and Namur, which had been thought strong enough to hold out for weeks, if not indefinitely, and later by its greater range proved an answer to the French 75.

Prior to the war there had been some discussion in France as to the necessity for heavy field artillery. None of the French heavy guns had been provided, however. As a consequence the French were unable properly to reply to the German heavy guns. While they immediately got out of their arsenals all the heavy artillery which they contained, these guns were of older types and therefore not the equal of the German ones.

Never Reached Poe's Efficiency.
The French immediately started to build heavy field guns. Up to the present they have been able to catch up with the Germans, who have brought out in the French chamber of deputies that the percentage of French heavy field guns of the latest models was only a fractional part of the percentage of the latest models among the German heavy field artillery.

The number of machine guns per battalion in the German infantry turned out to be considerably larger than had been expected, with the result that the French suffered considerably from their inferiority in this respect.

French Behind in Trench Warfare.

When the two armies settled down into trench warfare it soon became evident that the Germans had carefully thought out the best methods to be used and had provided the means. They had hand grenades and trench mortars of various types. Their trenches were of the most excellent construction to meet modern conditions. In other words, it was evident to all that they had studied and profited by the recent warfare of the Russo-Japanese war.

The French needed time to provide their deficiencies in artillery, machine guns, and trench material. They also needed the opportunity to equip and organize into new units the million reservists who had remained in depots because of the failure to provide before the war sufficient material and trained officers to meet the emergency.

For all these reasons the entente allies were not able to take advantage immediately of the opportunity offered them and to attack the Germans vigorously at the same time that they had their hands full with the Russians.

PRIVATE BANKS BILL IS SENT TO THIRD READING

House Defeats Foes of Measure, 85 to 41, in a Test Vote.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., May 31.—[Special.]—The House bill, state-wide private banks bill is now in third reading in the Senate. By a vote of 85 to 41 the Senate today defeated a motion by Representative Meents of Iroquois county, to adjourn, a private banker, to kill the pending clause of the measure.

For the first time, therefore, in four consecutive sessions, a private banks bill got to a test vote on the floor of the Senate, and in spite of the many obstacles the proposal has met, it is evident that the legislature will pass a bill that means that all private banks must incorporate and come under state supervision and control, enter the national bank field, or quit business.

(Chicago) members, Republicans and Democrats deserve much credit for the victory won today. With few exceptions they stood pat in defense of the measure.

Many downtown members voted with the majority that wallowed the private banks lobby, which in previous sessions had unquestioned sway. They returned to follow the leadership of Representative Jones of Springfield, in which Representative Perkins of Lincoln was first lieutenant.

ASK BANKS BE DISSOLVED.

Two suits were filed in the Circuit court yesterday asking for the dissolution of the Auburn State bank and the Morgan Park State bank, closed a May 22 by Andrew Russell, state auditor, and the appointment of a receiver for both. The court named the Chicago Title and Trust company to act as receiver.

The action was brought by Attorney General Edward J. Branigan on behalf of Auburn Russell. The suit against the Auburn State bank says that a solid Democratic vote knocked out the enacting clause when joined by some Republican recruits.

The state tax rate must be raised proportionately. The vote to kill the bill was 85 to 44.

The Dalley uniform textbooks bill was passed by the house and now goes to Gov. Lowden for his signature.

The senate passed the antishark bill this morning by a vote of 34 to 29, and it goes to the governor. The bill authorizes the forest preserve district in Cook county to organize a police force.

STATE TAXES GO UP; HOUSE KILLS EXCISE TAX BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31.—[Special.]—The administration's excise tax bill, calculated to produce about $1,500,000 additional to the general state fund annually, was killed in the Senate today.

A solid Democratic vote knocked out the enacting clause when joined by some Republican recruits.

The state tax rate must be raised proportionately. The vote to kill the bill was 85 to 44.

SCORN OF 'O SAY' VOTED 'TREASON' BY SCHOOL 'JURY'

Boy Sentenced to Stay In
at Recess as Long as the War Lasts.

Leon Blumberg, blonde and 12, began to feel the weight of his years. The flicking of rubber bands staled. The adventures of N. Carter paled.

And so last Tuesday Leon's hardened gaze fell upon his fellow students in the seventh grade classroom of the Nineteenth street school with disdain. They were studying, and what was more, enjoying it. Leon yawned and with a wry smile, previously caught Abe Fishberg on the ear with an eraser. Abe made a backseat gurgle.

Leon was given a back seat. Study over, the class rose and sang "The Star-Spangled Banner." That is, everybody but Leon. He explains that it was because he had been ordered to sit down for the remainder of the day.

But that is not all. Leon was tried by a jury of his schoolmates yesterday. And the charge was treason.

Viola Hall was the judge. The prosecuting attorney was Leo Share, and the bailiff Herman Jacobson. Leon chose Lester Doroshaw for his attorney.

The jury consisted of seven girls and five boys.

Leon pleaded not guilty. He was supported by Miss Catherine Stokes, who said she knew him to be patriotic. Miss Stokes, who is the teacher who reprimanded Leon to the back seat, justified his offense on the grounds of his having misjudged her.

The jury found Leon guilty, 11 votes to 1. While such a verdict was not strictly legal, Leon, after some discussion by court, spectators, and jury, was sentenced to remain indoors during the morning recess and salute the flag, sentence to continue for the duration of the war.

Miss S. Wilkinson, in charge of the class, ratified the verdict.

This appeared to be satisfactory to the house organization leaders, based on the amendment to be inserted on second reading, that work shall not be begun until the president has been obtained from either the governor or the department of public works.

Three of the Chicago traction bills were reported favorably today from the same committee on public utilities. These were the consolidation, thirty year franchise, and subway bills.

The home rule bill was given to a subcommittee with instructions to report tomorrow a modified bill that is expected to apply only to local transportation companies.

RELIEF

"The Tribune" has received the following contributions for relief of suffering caused by the tornadoes at Marion, Charleston, and other points. The money will be turned over to the Red Cross.

Reports received by the Globe-Democrat from its correspondent at Marquette Hill were that at least twenty-five persons were killed and more than 100 injured at Zanesville, Bolingbrook county.

It was known that at least three persons were killed near Zanesville, and advice from Cedar Rapids said that Boyce, his wife and five children were drowned when their home was drawn into the maw of the twister and dropped into the Cedar river.

A telegram from Cairo, Ill., stated that four Negroes were killed in a storm that struck the southern part of Illinois last night. Seven are known to be dead in the Piney Woods section of Texas county, fifteen miles north of Houston.

Need $500,000 at Mattoon.

Mattoon, Ill., May 31.—John J. O'Connor of Chicago, in charge of telephone here since the tornado of last Saturday, advised today that $500,000 will be needed for the rebuilding work and relief in Mattoon and Charleston. Of this sum $150,000 is in sight, with $60,000 in cash now in hand for the two towns.

Be that as it may, Leon was tried by a jury of his schoolmates yesterday.

Carpentier Says Triumph
Will Come with Punch—
Likes Yankee Fighter.

This is the third of a series of four consecutive interviews with Georges Carpentier, military aviator in the French army and heavyweight boxing champion of Europe.

GEORGES CARPENTIER.
ON THE FRENCH FRONT, April 25.—This war is a fight to the finish, the winner the party who can deliver the knockout punch. And the league of nations fighting Germany has it. Not that we are to blame, you think that Germany is now completely beaten. But she is on the point of dropping in her corner and taking the count. But she is like the boxer who after a long period of training steps into the ring, strong and resourceful, and scores points one after the other, only in the end to drop from the one smashing blow of his opponent, who has waited the time when his strength would be greatest.

We are winning the fighting, and the Boches are gradually giving way as our powerful attacks show them only too plainly that we are the stronger.

Knows Allies Win. Win.
I am an aviator and know our superiority just as well as I know how masters stand when I am in the ring with a boxer who gives way at every step I take, at every blow I deliver. The English and the French soldiers in the trenches know it—know that the prize of victory will be theirs—and that knowledge in itself means added strength. On the battlefield this confidence is the spirit of winning; in the ring it is the spirit that puts new life into tired muscles.

Just as long as there is a German to be knocked out I am going to fight unless a German bullet makes me take the count. The German aviators as a whole are clear fighters, but the Boche soldier, the Boche officer, breaks the rules of warfare continually. Similar dirty tactics in the ring could not be followed by any group of boxing fans in the world. The Boche, not satisfied with hitting his opponent below the belt, strikes over the ropes at the weak and innocent non-combatants.

Mother, Father, Sister, Prisoners. So far as I know, my father, mother and sister are in Lens, still held by the Germans; no more nor less than prisoners of the most cruel fighters the world has ever seen.

Every French soldier feels as I do. We feel that the Germans, from the soldier in the trenches to the Kaiser, must be punished for their "dirty work," to use the favorite expression of an American boxer. That is why, according to me in English-French that it was American for les crimes committed en guerre ou dans le ring de boxe."

So enormous are the crimes of the Germans that if some all powerful referee could end the fighting today by disqualifying the Germans and letting them withdraw unpunished from France, as a boxer who commits a deliberate foul leaves the ring, there is not a Frenchman who would not insist that the combatants justice could be伸ated to the Boches.

When the United States sends an army over to help defeat the Germans we will give it a hearty welcome.

Likes American Fighter.

I have a lot of faith in the American as a fighter; for I have seen the fine work of the American aviation squadron here in France, and I have personal knowledge of the fighting abilities of some American boxers. If there is a regiment of American boxers to fight alongside of us, old Hindenburg will have all the more reason for calling for more seconds and wet towels.

WOMEN GOLFERS WILL TALK OVER BAN ON STYMIES

Varying Rules Present a Puzzle for the Board of Governors.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Since the Western Golf Association has decided to abolish stymies in the annual championship, women players are anxious to know if the Women's Western will follow suit. Miss Edith E. Packard, secretary of the latter organization, has received a letter from Miss Carolyn Lee of Kansas City asking if any ruling had been made in the matter.

For no action has been taken, but the subject will be discussed at the next meeting of the board of governors.

At present the W. W. G. A. plays under the rules of both the U. S. G. A. and the Canadian, and the two now differ on the other must be followed.

If the stymie is abolished it is probable the ruling will apply to local tournaments as well.

The complete program of tournaments and matches to be held in the Chicago district under the auspices of the W. W. G. A. was issued yesterday by Miss Packard. Play will start next Monday with a one day tournament at Edge-

IN WAKE OF THE NEWS BY KING V. LARDNER

EDITORIAL.

THIS country game seems to be going completely to the dogs. The new holder of the lightweight title is a disgrace to pugilism and unless he is speedily dethroned congress should intervene and put an end to the so-called sport.

The following charges against Leonard have been made and substantiated:

1. He can make the weight.

2. He is a dog.

3. He has a punch in either hand.

4. He will fight anybody.

5. He is going to war.

Steps should be taken to remove this impossible champion from the game before he has effected its complete ruin.

Next to being a military aviator, unpiping baseball is as close to a sinecure as any job one can name. And now the Commissar has made it still more of a cinch with the bean ball rule. This provides that any pitcher who fails to throw at a batter need shall be canned from baseball. It is up to the second round by dusk. The rain of Wednesday set the meet day behind schedule.

Shorebridge High of Indiana sent four men. All except one survived the first round. Mathison of Stoughton, Wis., eliminated Wilson of the Hoosiers, but Kohn won from Fisher of Senn, Kelburn from Birkhoff of Hyde Park, and Berg from Martin of Chicago.

A. A. Stagg Jr., son of Director Stagg, put another visitor out of the running.

The Hyde Parker won from Skar of Stoughton, Wis., Schreiber of Wendell Phillips, defeated Fitzhugh of Urbana in the closest battle of the day. The remaining three sets, all which were double, were decided by the Commissar.

McKnight of Senn was a 14 to 12 set for Samowitz of Marshall, the longest set of the day.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

Grecian Muses

BY CORINNE LOWE.
NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—An English woman's chief nightmare is of being stung without a bath and her evening dress torn. An American woman wakes up in the middle of the night with a cold chill at the thought of being Robinson Crusoe some place without her tailored suit.

True, French designers almost refused to think up anything new for us this spring in the way of suits. They wanted to confine us all to frocks and top coats. Yet today the suit is stronger than ever. At the fashionable hotels and tea rooms one gets smartly tailored suits and coats as the chief galore in the dress padding. Last summer it was the same way. The fact of it is that the suit remains the one great fashion love of our women and not even Paris can come between us. Already they are thinking up styles for fall wear, and it is pleasant to consider that nothing dreadful is going to happen to suitwad. Skirts will be narrower, many of them plaited, and most of them a wee bit longer. Khaki and tan bid fair to be great favorites. Finger tip jackets will represent the military uniform length. And for the rest, those dreadful, exaggerated military effects will be abolished. The fact of it is that already the great houses have discarded the idea.

Meanwhile here, designed by Buzenet for a certain famous French actress, is a suit of black silk gabardine with blouse, collar, and great cavalier cuffs of cream-colored embroidery in color. The little side pin-tucks of the blouse are particularly good this summer and the suit is one which might be admirably adapted in tussah.

Jane, went shopping with her mother to buy some dresses. One which particularly took Jane's fancy was too small and could not be had in a larger size. Jane, not understanding why she was denied that dress, was persistent in her entreaties for it, so her mother, to convince the child, tried the direct method on said: "Don't you see how short it is?" "But mother, all the ladies are wearing their dresses very short now," said Jane.

Raymond, who for many months had invariably ended his evening prayer with: "Please send me a baby brother," announced to his mother that he had decided on praying for what he did not get and that he did not believe God had any little boy to send. Not long afterwards he was carried into his mother's room early one morning to see twin boys, who had arrived during the night. Raymond asked the two ladies critically and then he remarked: "It is a good thing I stopped praying when I did."

PLANT NOW—Winter potatoes.

TRANSPLANT NOW (if four leaves or more)—Early and midseason cabbage, red cabbage, Savoy cabbage, cauliflower, early celery, eggplant, kohlrabi, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Kindly advise the writer. 1. Where young lambs could be purchased? 2. About the price they should cost. 3. Whether or not they are liable to damage the trunks of young trees—H. R. ns.—1. Any of the sheep commission firms in the Exchange building, Union stockyards, Chicago, will purchase whatever is desired, for you, at the current market prices. They can safely be trusted to select healthy stock of the age and breed desired.

2. Their weight has ranged from $10 per hundredweight for the smallest spring lamb to $19.50 per hundredweight for the finest Colorado lambs. About $15 to $20 should buy a very desirable lamb. 3. They are not, while there is grazing for them.

Q.—I am delighted with your articles on tomatoes in THE TRIBUNE of May 18 and 19. I beg to tell you what to do for my cucumbers. The soil is good; the plants are healthy, are covered with blossoms and then begin to die just above the ground. Finally, the whole vine dies.—M. A.

Ans.—You are well within the first zone—see map of smoke zones with suitable vegetables, March 4, reprinted April 16—and cucumbers cannot be brought to bear there. Diseased to which they have been subject in recent years are prevented by four sprayings of the upper and lower sides of the vine with bordeaux mixture. The effort, however, would undoubtedly be wasted in the first zone.

Q.—In a recent article you advise: "As a protective measure against disease, all beans must be left severely alone when wet with dew or rain."

1. Does the disease attack man or bean? Why just dew or rain? 2. Please tell how to handle the excess pod beans for drying. 3. Do not publish name.—H. G. M.

Ans.—1. Bean anthracnose is the most destructive of the diseases attacking beans. It is generally the result of planting diseased seed. The dormant disease spores may be recognized on the seed by discolored areas and the shriveled condition. Hence seed beans should be hand picked and only perfect, glossy beans planted. If this was not done, the seedling plant may develop the disease rapidly and die, or slowly, holding the disease seed together until it is ready to be used. 2. The section set aside for bean pods must be harvested before the pods are full grown. If allowed to mature, they will not set additional crops.

How to Clean Ivory.
Every object such as cigarette rings, trinket boxes, etc., unless carefully looked after, will become discolored and yellow. The easiest way to clean ivory of this description is to soap a new toothbrush and brush well the surface with it. Then rinse in tepid water, and when quite dry pour a little spirit over the brush and polish the article thoroughly. Should the ivory be very yellow, brush it a little in the sun. This treatment, if carefully followed, will make the article nearly equal to new.

2. As the first crop of pods produces the finest dry beans, set aside a part of the bean bed for this purpose and till掌上. Pick these when the leaves and pods dry, hull the seed and spread it to dry in a ventilated loft. When dry, remove to frost free storage to be used as seed. The section set aside for bean pods must be harvested before the pods are full grown. If allowed to mature, they will not set additional crops.

Stock Tip to Women—Buy Liberty Bonds

BY CINDERELLA.

Women were only as fierce buying the Liberty bonds as they have been about buying stocks in the past, why it'd all be "Mc- about nothing," as they say in eastern women, to be sure, are about speculation than we are about bonds. If you were playing bridge with eastern women and some of them would be sure to hop to the table and order a thousand dollars worth of Liberty bonds.

In certain sets in New York lately, women are always talking about their brokers, and stops and starts and tips, and roshin to the phone for the greatest changes in the political situation, they say it makes life "extraordinarily bad" the case, it did seem the other day at luncheon to some women saying they didn't think about the Liberty loan.

They'd seen the handsome and well-dressed bond brokers and the girls and stocks all their own, and nobody to say "yes" or "no" to them.

There are no two ways out of it—it's everybody who loves this country to buy Liberty bonds, women as men. While it may not be as safe as stock gambling, it's lots of thrills, the "Independent" or the "Salon of the Champs de Mars" is having a private view this evening at the Arts club.

Probably everybody knows that Paris has a branch of the American Red Cross, one where the regular artists attend the canvases admitted year after year each spring, and the irregular ones, a huy, where the irregular artists hang their pictures hung, no matter what they do to them or to their paintings of thrills, the "Independent" or the "Salon of the Champs de Mars" is having a private view this evening at the Arts club.

The woman's committee of the council for national defense is registering women trained in all branches of industry. But it is also trying to organize the untrained women as well as tell them where they can go for instruction in any branch of work they wish to undertake for the good of their country.

All this for the modest registration fee of 10 cents—though, of course, as Mrs. Martin Ryerson pointed out in her recent report of the finance committee, one doesn't need to stop at 10 cents. Any sum is acceptable.

At a meeting of the committee on instruction a plan was broached to have many of these, such as secretarial training and industrial training, in the hands of other clerical branches taught in the high schools this summer.

"Since so many bogors have been called away," says a report by Mrs. William Heffernan, "those that remain are in great need of specially expert secretarial assistance, and classes to train such women will be once be initiated."

Leaflets will be sent to each center established by the council with the possible occupation listed on one side and the course offered opposite.

Miss George Bass, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, the Chicago subcommittee of the woman's Liberty loan committee, are in Washington attending a meeting of the national committee. The chairman of the outlying bank committee sent out a letter to all banks in the city asking them to help a woman representative present at a massmeeting June 9 at 10:30 in room 628 Federal building, for further discussion of the Liberty loan drive for the last ten days previous to June 15.

The dedication of the medical woman's military reserve chapter of the woman's section of the Navy league, will occur at room 1402 Stevens building at 8 p.m. this evening.

The Rev. A. K. Parker, an Alpha Delta fraternity brother of Mr. Peattie, will perform the ceremony, after which couples will leave at once for Cambridge, their home for the summer, except to be at Fort Sheridan by arrangement. Parker is a graduate of but two years to work in art studios, in which she has done some notable portraits. She has a studio in fifty-seventh street, near Jackson Park.

Statement for Farm

Since the unfortunate death there has been a great deal of talk in the newspapers about uninformed people to facts unfounded declaration wild rumors that circulate whenever anybody is involved in any affair that is out of the ordinary. Some stories have been started and then discontinued, finally reaching the public through the efforts of fabric manufacturers, importers, and dealers.

For several weeks Mr. Trudeau, business associates and friends have realized that upon a complete nervous system.

He made appointments and kept them. He wrote letters to telephone calls and then, within the space of a few hours, wrote other telegrams and messages to his wife.

He did this which showed a definite change in his behavior.

After the dinner, which was social affair, the party went to E. Kohl's home. There he said that there was a man named Monto Carlo. That was not true. The fact is that Charles E. Kohl brought roulette wheel. His mother objected, telling him that he play on Sunday. He laid down his dice game with no stain of the utmost good feelings.

Shots Fired in Street

Some time later the newspaper acquaintance returned home of Mr. Kohl's mother remained at the Charles E. Kohl home.

"Some time during the night from Mrs. Kohl's home, the servants ran to Mr. Kohl, in an insane condition, crying wildly to her and from what we learned he struck her.

"Mr. Dupee tried to friend. Mr. Kohl would not make a man to strike. A struggle followed. Mr. Dupee fully dressed himself, drew five shots were fired, all of harmlessly in the floor, set of a demented man.

"The shots aroused the police by the time the Mr. Kohl was approached, returned to his room. Statements have been made to interviews with the Kohl home. All that concerned them is that no man or given any information man.

Said He Was Shot

or o'clock, Mr. Kohl left his house and was shot in the arm. The bullet was not broken off.

"About noon, Charles Anthony Kohl, son of Mr. Kohl, and the Majestic hotel. We would get him to go to the hospital because of his condition, and we decided to a hospital by force, if necessary, in an automobile with unnatural strength.

Death Was Unexp

When it was taken to the hospital and was quiet and given a warm bath. When he was given a bath, neither Mr. Dupee, nor his sister visited him. In the first place, he was recovering from his injuries, recovering from his injuries, nervous and physical, but by the unfortunate

INSIDE STORY OF KOHL'S DEATH TOLD BY FAMILY

Shots Fired in Struggle
While Theater Man
Was Demented.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT

OCONOMOWO, WIS.—A detailed statement by the heir of the family of Charles E. Kohl, the theater man, regarding incidents preceding his fatal shooting on Monday, was given to THE TRIBUNE tonight.

George A. Trude of Chicago, attorney for the Kohl family, set forth the family's version of the happenings that led up to Mr. Kohl's appearance in a demented condition on the streets of the Waldheim sanatorium, and his subsequent death in the institution.

Deny "Foul Play" Stories.

The statement was brought forth by repeated insinuations of foul play. These were again denied. The authorities, while they have continued the inquiry until Saturday, agree that death was natural.

Mr. Trude says that Mrs. Kohl, widow of the dead man; his mother, and his two sisters are prostrated and cannot speak in person. He talked for them, with their authorization, and set forth, point by point, the angles of the tragedy which have been discussed and made to appear as mysterious.

Statement for Family.

Mr. Trude's statement follows:

"Since the unfortunate death of Mr. Kohl there has been a determined effort by some of the newspapers and by certain uninformed people to accept as a fact unfounded declamations and to adduce them in the streets whenever anybody is involved in any affair that is out of the ordinary. Countless stories have been started and this statement has been issued on behalf of the family to set finally at rest unfounded stories of insinuation, innuendo, and baseless suspicion."

"For several weeks Mr. Kohl's closest business associates and personal friends have realized that he became a burden upon complete nonentity, a nobody, his medical appointments and neglected to see them. He wrote letters, followed them by telephone calls and telegrams, and then, within the space of an hour, wrote other telegrams and letters nullifying the originals. He did many other things which showed a deranged mind.

Dinner Not "Gay Affair."

"His immediate family came to realize that he must have an absolute rest or face mental derangement. Last Sunday a quiet little dinner was arranged at the home of his mother. His wife, his two sisters, a newspaper acquaintance, and Walter Dupee, a lifelong friend both of Mr. Kohl and the Kohl family, were present.

The dinner was held this afternoon. A special train came from Chicago bearing close friends of Mr. Kohl and of the Kohl family.

Martin Beck, head of the Orpheum circuit, and Louis M. Sonnenberg came from New York. Frank Tate came from St. Louis. Herman Fehr and James Higginson came from Milwaukee.

Among the Chicagoans were Mort H. Singer, Joseph Finn, Harry J. Hirsch, Michael L. Lasky, George Castle, Frank P. Rivers, Thomas G. Meagher, Fred Eberle, George Van, Frank Darnaman, Henry Waterall, and George Warren.

There was a service by Canon St. George. The body was placed in a mausoleum in Lake Bell's cemetery at the edge of Oconomowoc.

The funeral came to Chicago about a year ago. At that time she prophesied dire things for America, among them war, famine and death and destruction. The millennium, she said, will arrive in 1969, when there will remain on the globe 44,000 angel marked individuals, with America, if represented at all, in a negligible minority.

Many Friends at Rites.

The funeral was held this afternoon.

A special train came from Chicago bearing close friends of Mr. Kohl and of the Kohl family.

After the dinner, which was a happy social affair, the party went to Charles E. Kohl's home. There has been a charge that there was gambling—that a miniature Monte Carlo was staged. That is not true. The facts are that Charles E. Kohl brought out a little roulette wheel. His mother and sisters objected, telling him that he should not play on Sunday. He laughed and put the board away. Then followed a simple dice game with stakes and with the utmost good feelings existing.

Shots Fired in Struggle.

Some time later the sisters and the newspaper acquaintance returned to the home of Mr. Kohl's mother. Mr. Dupee attended formally on Saturday. State's Attorney Morris Tullar of Waukesha and his police officers were there.

Some time later the police screens came from Mr. Kohl's apartment. Mr. Dupee and the servants ran there. Mr. Kohl, in an insane condition, was talking wildly to her and from later conversations we learned that he had been struck.

Mr. Dupee tried to talk to his friend. Mr. Kohl would not listen and made a move as if to strike Mrs. Kohl. A struggle followed. Mr. Kohl, having fully dressed himself, drew a revolver. Five shots were fired, all of which went harmlessly into the floor. It was the act of a demented man.

The shots aroused the neighbors and the police.

By this time the police had arrived.

Mr. Kohl was apparently subdued, returned to his room, and went to bed. Statements have been printed purporting to be interviews with the maid in the Kohl home. All that I care to say concerning them is that no maid has been or given any information to any newspaper man.

Said He Was Shot.

"Some time in the morning, about 8 o'clock, Mr. Kohl left his home. He was not his normal self. He went to a Barber shop, and then, half shaved, with the lather still on his face, he stood from his chair, shouting, 'I have been bitten—my arm is broken.' He then took off his shirt and said, 'Here is the place.'

He entered a number of other places, repeating his statement. There was no sign of blood, as there would have been had he been shot or stabbed, and his arm was not broken or injured.

About noon Capt. Anthony Darse, a friend of Mr. Kohl's, and I found him in the room. We tried to talk to him and get him to tell us why he would not listen because of his mental condition, and we decided to take him to a hospital by force, if necessary. We put him in an automobile. ## COUNTESS, AMID POTS AND PANS, RINGS OWN KNEEL

May Be Astral Message
—Being but Babes,
We Wait.

Countess Aurelia Bethlen, prophetess of gloom, has attracted her friends a sleepless night last night. She promised to clear this morning the mystery she created yesterday. This is the message she sent to a number of her friends in Chicago:

"If you don't hear from me by 10 o'clock tomorrow morning I shall be dead."

The countess, who traces her family history back to 14 B.C., whose beauty has attracted the courtiers of Europe and whose picture appeared frequently in the European society journals of fifteen years ago, last night, yeomanly the humble duties of a housewife, washing dishes, sweeping, making beds. She was employed by Mrs. E. P. McClure Jr. Western Springs, who answered the countess' advertisement in a newspaper.

A "Business Woman."

Previous to taking this new position Countess Bethlen's friends had obtained for her one position after another. She sold ribbon in one State street department store. In another she sold silk stockings, and with each pair sold she attached a card with the name of the purveyor that those who exposed their limbs in silk hoseery and who sought to dazzle the eyes of men with ribbons and finery were doomed to horrible destruction.

Much as the manager respected her religious views, in every case he found her wholly unsatisfactory as a saleslady.

Mrs. L. Brackett Bishop of the Chicago church school, who more than once obtained positions for the countess, was one who received the mysterious message. She telephoned to the McClure residence.

"What in the world are you going to do?" asked Mrs. Bishop, in considerable agitation.

An Illuminating Reply.

"I can't tell you," replied the countess. "You are but a baby and must wait and see."

Later, Countess Bethlen was just as mysterious.

"It does mean that you will be dead by 10 o'clock," she added.

"I can't tell you," replied the countess.

"I shall have a message for you tomorrow, and you shall get it whether I am dead or alive."

The countess came to Chicago about a year ago. At that time she prophesied dire things for America, among them war, famine and death and destruction. The millennium, she said, will arrive in 1969, when there will remain on the globe 44,000 angel marked individuals, with America, if represented at all, in a negligible minority.

Sees Destruction for U.S.

"The greatest destruction is to come from America," she said. "It worships gold, and God. Every nation of the world is to attack America."

The more glory I pray for it. For it is only through great calamity that great unity can come."

COP LOST HIS GUN
ALL RIGHT, BUT TO
BOLD, BAD BANDIT

At first Patrolman James O'Laughlin of the Warren avenue station contended that he had lost his revolver, but yesterday before the trial board of the city civil service commission he told the true story.

It was the evening of April 20. He said, "I was in citizens' clothes. A few doors from my home, 3201 Warren avenue, a man stepped out of a yard and I saw he had a gun in his hand. He asked me to wait a minute and pointed the gun at me. I thought maybe something happened in the neighborhood and that he was a detective, so I said: 'Why, I'm an officer myself.'

"Oh-ho, how you are, are you?" And he passed the gun along through his coat pocket.

This was followed confirmation by the sergeant of all the appointments that he submitted of his revolver and took my revolver and it."

The board ordered O'Laughlin placed on reserve duty a short time for punishment.

Miss Helen Patrick, 21, 2321 Southport avenue, died suddenly yesterday in the Fisher building. Dr. E. P. Rice, who was called, said that death appeared to be due to convulsions of the stomach.

BANKERS NOW SURE LOAN WILL BE A SUCCESS

Evidence the Belief That Liberty Issue Will Be Oversubscribed.

It will soon be possible to gauge the first effect of the payment of the subscription to the Liberty loan. As yet bankers are inclined to believe that any such disturbance will take place in the market, although it seems certain that western subscriptions will not long remain at western banks.

It is a certainty that most of the money will speedily be lodged in New York banks, swelling their deposits to an extraordinary volume, and this would result in easier money at that point, with a corresponding tendency to fluctuate west of New York.

In asking of the Liberty loan bankers are now evidencing their belief in its oversubscription. Instead of saying as year must be made a success, as they had been since it was first announced, they now feel confident it will be a success. It may have been overlooked that between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 have been substantially placed with the banks through the purchase by the latter of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Banks Buy $650,000,000.

The banks have bought $650,000,000 of these certificates, which are convertible into the certificates. The latest issue on the last issue of $200,000,000 certificates. This last issue of certificates too, was oversubscribed, due in part to the more favorable announcement concerning the outlook of the loan. If the latter were to be more than nine the certificates would give the holders a favored position in the allotments.

The money is lending locally at 5 per cent. Call rates rule at 5 per cent, with sentiment a little mixed as to the course of rates within the next few weeks.

U. S. Steel Company.

The rapid selling off of Steel common in the afternoon session led to predictions that the stock might be expected to become quiet in view of the large rise it has had; that is from around 112. The shares will be ex-dividend 4% per cent this morning. The final quotation yesterday was 134%. With no change in the relative position over night the market closed at 129%, a price that had low compared with the price above 130, which the shares reached earlier in the day.

But market predictions have not been uniformly good in this last week. It appears that yesterday's high price was made through a drive against shorts. After this had been accomplished nothing did the rest.

Local Bank Clearings Large.

Local bank clearings for May were $211,973,057, compared with $1,691,233,58 for the corresponding month last year. The increase was $519,761,269, or 27.5% per cent. The high mark for local clearings was made in March, with a total of $217,919,412.

Chicago Securities.

Chicago stocks were irregular with a general downward trend. Public Service preferred was up 1 cent. Commonwealth Edison was up 1. Mitchell Motors was steady at 50. The packing house shares showed no distinct trend, though Wilson & Co. stock was lower.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago firm at 5 per cent on collateral, 5% 1/2 per cent on commercial paper, and 56% 1/2 per cent over the counter. New York exchange, discount, Chicago bank clearings, $6,053,392.

NEWS OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD

LOUIS W. HILL, president of the Great Northern, says that the leases made of Great Northern properties will add greatly to the concern's earnings. It is unofficially reported that Jones & Laughlin, one of the lessees, have contracted for about $60,000 of ore to be taken from the mines within the twenty year period.

Directors of the Sloos-Sheffel and Iron company telephoned to meet June 15. It is thought some statement may be made at that time as to the present status of the company's finances. Earnings are said to be running at the rate of about $25 a share on the common stock. The company's fiscal year will end on Nov. 30, and there is not much expectation of anything being done for the common prior to that date.

The copper market continues strong. Large sellers are quoting August at 30¢ per pound and September at 30¢. Business is being booked in good volume for both domestic and foreign account.

The recent activity in American Smelting Tobacco was explained yesterday by the inauguration of dividends on the common stock, the initial distribution being for the common

Wheat futures continued weak yesterday, and volume of trade small. July closed 2¢ lower, while September was off 3¢. Relative weakness of the July was due largely to its lack of support.

At Kansas City stocks are small, only 24,000 bu. compared to Monday, with $20,000 bu. Chicago. The City cash men say the amount of corn sold to go out is several times as much as the amount in store at the present time, with country offerings light. Cash wheat premiums were slightly easier, with little doing. No export business was reported.

Local sentiment on oats continues bearish, the recent rains with somewhat warmer weather encouraging more selling, the reports in regard to the crop outlook being extremely optimistic. A high average condition of oats is expected in the June report, and the acreage is expected to be far by the largest on record.

Compared to other grains, however, oats are 12¢ lower yesterday.

Crop advice from Russia are not favorable. Weather conditions have been unfavorable and stocks are moderate, with interior movement light.

Cash wheat sold at the gulf yesterday at 75¢ premium over Chicago July wheat.

Cash corn prices were 25¢ lower yesterday, and oats were 12¢ off.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 325,000 bu. for five days.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

ARGENTINE corn futures, according to New York advices, are selling higher than Chicago in spite of the fact there is some exportable surplus. Evidently the stocks in Argentina are moderate and holders firm in their views. Some Argentine corn has been worked to the country, but with future Buenos Aires high, than Chicago futures and a freight cost of 25¢ to 30¢, the competition from that source is not likely to be great.

The Van Dusen-Harrington weekly crop summary said: "There has been little change in the crop situation in Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota since our crop report of a week ago. The weather has been quite warm during the past month, and the temperatures, heading out with shore stalks. Oats condition is bright and there is a big acreage of corn, with a good stand.

Provisions prices at Liverpool were lower, due to the more liberal Danish offers at a decline. Stocks at English markets are increasing with the decreased consumption. Lard was reported weak, with liberal American offers, while supplies are liberal.

Canadian reports as forwarded to Liverpool speak highly of weather and crop conditions, and reserves of wheat are said to be liberal. That the reserve supply is still large is indicated by the large receipts at Winnipeg.

Rains are delaying seeding in parts of Australia, while in other sections there are complaints of drought. Seeding after June is not usual, but considerable remains to be done.

J. T. Milliken of St. Louis wired from San Antonio, Tex., that Texas and Oklahoma had the best prospects for grain this year he had ever seen.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 62 cars; corn, 208; oats, 187; caro, 5; ears; barley, 22 cars. Hogs estimated for today, 15,000 head.

Crop advice from Russia are not favorable. Weather conditions have been unfavorable and stocks are moderate, with interior movement light.

Cash wheat sold at the gulf yesterday at 75¢ premium over Chicago July wheat.

Cash corn prices were 25¢ lower yesterday, and oats were 12¢ off.
